
How long could I stay in C.A.S.S. accommodation?

By admin

Published: 7 Apr 2008 - 8:25am

The maximum time is two years although it is unusual for people to stay that long. Our aim is to help people move onto their own accommodation as soon as they are able to do so. When people leave we often provide support to help them move into their own accommodation and get settled in as we know that this is a big step! It is also possible to ask for this support to continue for longer if necessary.